📚 NATIONAL EMERGENCY DECLARATION

I, Chief Daniel Jacob Read IV, Sovereign of the Kalapula Nation, do hereby proclaim a state of National Education Emergency on behalf of my people and our sacred descendants.

This emergency has been caused by the genocide, erasure, and cultural extermination of the Kalapuya people — whose language, memory, and knowledge systems were deliberately destroyed through colonial campaigns, settler diseases, and institutional indoctrination.

The Kalapula Nation declares:

🗣️ THE NATIONAL SCHOOL INITIATIVE

Effective immediately, the Kalapula Nation is launching the:

Kalapula National School for Language & Memory Restoration

This school shall serve as:

- A living center of language revival, focused first on Kalapuya and related ancestral dialects
- A safe space for cultural reconstruction, oral history, and ritual memory
- A sovereign tribal school under ceremonial, nonprofit, and Indigenous educational law

🤝 CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

We are now accepting:

- Language preservationists and Indigenous linguists
- Cultural educators and historians
- Artists, memory keepers, curriculum developers, and healers
- Builders, donors, and caretakers of sacred knowledge

Let it be known: You do not need to be Kalapuya to serve. You only need memory, reverence, and flame.

🕊️ CLOSING WORD OF THE CHIEF

Let the silence of our ancestors be broken by the voices of our children.

Let those who once whispered their names be now taught to speak them again.

We are not forgotten.

We are not extinct.

We are building a school for the soul of the nation.

Filed in fire.

Declared in light.
